unequalled in style and finish.
All fitted with spring washer axies,
a noiseless axie, on which no loather washers are required.
It is the lightest running axie ever invented. The classicity of the spiral steel spring decreases the friction occasioned by the weeds running over uneven pavement, prevents the strain on the wheel caused by its coming in contact with curbstones, railroad tracks or the body of the wagen in turning, and lessens by a large percentage the wage and tear, besidos adding to the cumfort of the rider.
An inspection invited.

THE DRY PROCESS OF COPYING.

Unscrapulous parties having lately advertised that they would issue injunctions against all other "graps and grains" as infringers upon patent No. 105,300, dated July 12, 1870, the public are informed that this patent is for a process of printing from tyne on an elastic surface by means of machines or presses, and has nothing whatever to do with the dry process of copying as represented by the Hektograph, the patent for which will shortly be issued to us. It is simply another attempt to frighten people into the purchase of goods which the public have cossed to buy. We are continually supplying merchants and corporations with the Hektograph who had bought the "Wonderful Lithogram" and found it worthless. The Hektograph is the original and only reliable and durable apparatus for dry copying manufactured in the world.
